

On October, 12th, 2011 in the All-Russia scientific research institute of grain and products of its processing will take place 5th Conference of young scientists and experts of institutes of Branch «Storages and processing of agricultural production» of Russian Academy of agricultural sciences on a theme: «Modern methods of the directed change of physical and chemical and technological properties of agricultural raw materials for manufacture of products of a healthy food».

The address: Moscow, Dmitrovsky highway, 11, a conference hall.

Within the limits of conference will pass competition of scientifically-innovative works.

Any scientist can take part in competition, the post-graduate student or the expert of scientific research institutes is elderly till 35 years.

The competition purpose: Revealing of talented young scientists, experts of branch and high technology, progressive scientific directions and perspective technologies.

Awards: By results of competition the diploma will be handed over winners of the most significant works and the monetary award is paid.

Competitive materials are transferred in the form of article and according to applied requirements. It is necessary to put the demand filled under the specified form to article.

Materials to transfer: in the electronic form to the address dpitanie@vniimp.ru;
On paper carrier to A. Dydykin till July, 1st, 2011.

- The requirement for registration papers and application form